Russia Backs Down; Ready To Discuss Veto But Vishinsky Warns Debate Will Not Produce Any Practical Results

Seek Bond Plan For U.S. Trucks On Alaska Road

OTTAWA (CP)—Federal government officials said today negotiations were under way with the United States in an effort to solve difficulties arising over the trucking of American goods in bond over the Alaska Highway and reiterated that there was as yet no treaty covering the matter.

They were commenting on dispatches from Seattle, Wash., in which United States officials, including Senator Warren G. Magnuson, protested that Canada was discriminating against U.S. citizens and that Canadian refusal to allow shipment of goods in bond by truck was "completely contradictory" to a treaty.

One External Affairs Department official here said: "We are holding discussions and negotiations with the United States government on this question."

He added, however, that it would be wrong to speculate that these negotiations might lead to the signing of a treaty.

Customs Department officials also denied that any treaty on the trucking of goods existed, and said there was no discrimination.

One customs spokesman said there was an arrangement that Canada would not discriminate against U.S. citizens in customs matters, but pointed out that since Canada did not allow anyone—not even her own citizens—to transport goods in bond by truck it could not be called discrimination if she refused this to Americans.

MAGNUSON ACTS

SEATTLE (AP)—U.S. Senator Warren G. Magnuson (Dem., Wash.) said Thursday night he had asked the State Department to investigate reports that Canada was refusing to permit trucking of U.S. goods from the United States to Alaska over the Alaska Highway.

The charge, made Thursday by Donald MacDonald, former member of the Alaska International Highway Commission, was denied by Canadian officials both in Edmonton and Ottawa.

Magnuson told interviewers he would oppose any further negotiations with the Dominion, for establishment of "freeways" in the United States for use by Canadians, until the situation has been resolved in U.S. favor.

The senator estimated the United States spent $137,000,000 on the highway, and said "the whole purpose of the United States was to have a free international highway."

Nail Shortage Hits Wartime Housing

Shortage of nails is slowing down completion of the 48 remaining wartime houses being built for veterans, Ald. Edward Williams, manager of Victoria Housing Ltd., said today.

"While we still have some nails on hand, and are still able to keep all our men working, the difficulties of obtaining sufficient quantities of the different types we need, such as gyproc and shingle nails, is slowing the work to a considerable extent."

Another shortage which is causing some difficulty is in electrical supplies, Ald. Williams said. Plumbing and lumber needed for the houses have not been obtained.

Lieutenant-Governor Pays Visit To Navy

Lieutenant-Governor Charles A. Banks today paid his first official visit to Rear-Admiral E. R. Mainguy, O.B.E., R.C.N., Commanding Officer Pacific Coast, at H.M.C.S. Givensby at 11 this morning.

Parading for the occasion were a navy guard from H.M.C.S. Naden, the Naden band and field gun crews, with three guns which fired five rounds each for a 15-gun salute on the Lieutenant-Governor's arrival.

The guard, composed of 100 men, was under Lieut. W. H. Wilson, R.C.N., in command, and Lieut. J. P. Howe, R.C.N., second in command.

Seafires Will Soon Fly Over Victoria

Canada's Naval Air Arm will give a demonstration over Victoria when H.M.C.S. Warrior, 18,000-ton aircraft carrier, arrives here in December. The Seafire fighter aircraft, capable of a top speed of 400 miles an hour, will take off from the Warrior's flight deck as the vessel approaches Victoria and land at the Patricia Bay air station. Three of the Seafires are shown above during an exercise off the Nova Scotia coast.

China Communists Holding 2 Marines

PEIPING (AP)—Headquarters of the U.S. Marines said today it had established that Chinese Communists are holding two marines who were kidnapped last Sunday while duck hunting near Tangku, east of Tientsin. The two were taken prisoner with two other leathernecks and five civilians. The others were released shortly after being kidnapped, headquarters reported.

Quads Born; 1 Dies

NEW YORK (AP)—Quadruplets—three boys and a girl—were born to diminutive Mrs. Lillian Hapman, 29, but one of the boys died 90 minutes after birth. The mother and other three children were reported "doing well" today. Dr. George J. Berson said the children were born five weeks prematurely.

ATHENS (AP)—Premier Constantinos Tsaldaris announced today he had invited opposition leaders to bargain on domestic policies with a view to participation in a broadened Greek government, but had declined to consider any changes in the Royalist cabinet's foreign policy.

Committees Named For Canada At U.N.

NEW YORK (CP)—Rt. Hon. Louis St. Laurent, chairman of the Canadian delegation to the United Nations' General Assembly, today announced the assignment of duties to six committees in his group. A member of the economic and financial committee is Max Mackenzie, deputy Minister of Trade and Commerce, a native of Victoria, B.C.

Baby Found In Car, But Mother Missing; May Be Amnesia Victim

VANCOUVER (CP)—Two-year-old Judith Gaudin was home today with her sisters and brother after living for three days in an automobile—her only food some chocolates—but her mother, the 30-year-old wife of Dr. M. L. Gaudin, still was missing.

Mrs. Gaudin, believed an amnesia victim, left her home with Judith and two older children in the family car at 9 a.m. Tuesday. A three-weeks' old infant was left at home. The older children, Jimmy, 5 years old, and Pamela, 4, were left at school.

Judith was found in the car late Thursday night. The vehicle was parked at the base of Burnaby Mountain, close to Dr. Gaudin's suburban home, in a heavily wooded area.

There was no trace of the mother. The child apparently had suffered no ill effects. The mother had left the supply of candy in the car.

In the sparsely-settled area, provincial police, soldiers, boy scouts and schoolboys today were carrying on an intensive search for the mother, beating their way through brushlands. Also in the hunt was the famed R.C.M.P. trail dog "Cliffie."

Dr. Gaudin believes his wife may be suffering from amnesia as a result of wartime "blitz" experiences in England, where they underwent bombings in both London and Sheffield. He is a veteran of the R.A.F. and the R.C.A.F.

Mrs. Gaudin, a pretty dark-haired woman, born in Seattle, married the Vancouver-born Dr. Gaudin before the war. They were in England when the war started, the doctor pursuing his medical studies.

Policeman Suffers Broken Arm In Chase

Constable Albert Harwood, city motorcycle police officer, suffered a broken left arm and minor injuries at 7.30 this morning when he was in collision with a truck driven by Ernest L. Smith at Johnson and Vancouver Streets, while the officer was chasing another motorcyclist. He was taken to Jubilee Hospital and attended by Dr. W. E. Mitchell.

Adequate Cement In Island Quarries

The latest Henry J. Kaiser enterprise, the new $500,000 plant of the Permanent Cement Company near Seattle, Wash., which was opened today is not expected to supply Vancouver Island with cement. It was learned from building supply firms in Victoria.

Vancouver Island has sufficient quarries capable of supplying all local needs with cement, it was pointed out. However, it was explained that if a serious shortage of cement should ever occur in the near future, it might be necessary to draw supplies from the huge American plant which has a storage capacity of 80,000 barrels.

Vancouver is more likely to draw cement supplies from the plant as the demand for cement in that city is much greater than that of Victoria and other up-island points.

Most of the local cement was now being shipped to Campbell River and Port Alberni where heavy construction projects are underway.

Dominion-Manitoba Tax Plan Accepted

WINNIPEG (CP)—Works Minister Erick Willis of Manitoba said today on his return from Ottawa that "the Dominion-Manitoba (tax transfer) agreement is complete." He added that the New Brunswick and Saskatchewan governments have yet to agree to the terms of the federal governments final draft.

Premier Garson of Manitoba will remain in Ottawa to confer with government officials.

150 Jerusalem Jews Detained After Bombing

JERUSALEM (CP)—Police detained nearly 150 Jerusalem Jews today following a night of bomb and mine blasts which came less than three days after a Stern Gang warning of intensified mine war against British forces.

Twelve persons—11 soldiers and a civilian—were wounded in four bomb and grenade explosions in Jerusalem. The condition of three was listed as "dangerous."

The Jews were detained after an all-night police screening of Jewish residents at the scenes of the bombings. The army said, however, that no actual suspects had been arrested. The city was tense today. Soldiers on patrol seemed sullen and grim.

The explosion of three bombs and a hand grenade in the Jewish quarter here followed the 6.30 p.m. deadline of a nightly dawn-to-dusk curfew imposed in the quarter a week ago by the British because of a "serious recrudescence of Jewish terrorism in the Jerusalem area."

The soldiers wounded were enforcing the curfew. Soon after, heavy firing went on for half an hour near the Saronia police station east of Tel Aviv.

Shortly before midnight, part of a highway bridge was destroyed by a bomb explosion near Hadera, on the north coastal plain.

About the same time, a military truck was demolished by a road mine a few miles away. The driver was taken to a hospital bleeding and unconscious.

Alarm sirens sounded in Jerusalem, Jaffa and Tel Aviv after the incidents had occurred, and all Jerusalem was under curfew for 40 minutes.

In propaganda leaflets, the Stern Gang, outlawed Jewish underground group, warned earlier in the week that British soldiers carrying firearms would be shot and that more and more mines would be put in the path of army vehicles.

U.S. Lifts Tariffs On Lumber Imports

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman, declaring an emergency exists, today suspended import tariffs covering lumber needed for housing.

(B.C. Forest Service officers predicted the President's announcement would not affect the timber supply situation in British Columbia since exports are controlled by the Canadian timber controller's office. At present a quota of 15 per cent of B.C.'s timber output is allotted to the U.S.)

NEW YORK (CP)—Soviet opposition to free discussion of the veto power in the United Nations' General Assembly was suddenly withdrawn today by delegate Andrei Vishinsky in the face of a strong British and United States demand that the subject be thrown open.

Mr. Vishinsky said he was withdrawing Russian opposition in the interest of "unanimity," but warned that to debate such matters in the General Assembly at this time was entering upon "dangerous ground."

The decision was made in the steering committee, which spent all morning wrangling over the small power demands that the veto power be curtailed, the British and U.S. demands that it be discussed in the Assembly, and the Russian stand against any veto debate in the larger body.

The discussion would lead to "no practical results," said Mr. Vishinsky, Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister.

Earlier, Britain and the U.S. had clashes with Russia over the Soviet attempt to bar discussions of the veto question.

While making it clear they were not committing themselves on the issue of whether the veto provisions of the charter should be changed, the two big western powers insisted the Assembly must not be denied the right to discuss the question.

First Asked Topic Be Taken Off Agenda

The clash occurred at an open meeting of the general committee after the Soviet representative had demanded that the items dealing with the veto be stricken from the Assembly's provisional agenda.

Warren R. Austin, chief U.S. delegate, declared the American delegation felt the Assembly had a right to discuss any matter within the scope of the charter and that it was clear the veto right of the five permanent members of the Security Council came within the charter.

Mr. Austin was backed by Sir Hartley Shawcross, British representative, who said the British delegation was in agreement with some of the observations raised by the Soviet Union, but that the steering committee was not the place to accept or reject such items.

Sir Hartley urged that the committee, without prejudging the case, pass it on without making any recommendations.

He added that Great Britain "should be likely to oppose any amendment to the charter," but that this committee has no right to delete such items or take positive action on them.

Mr. Vishinsky declared that any change in the veto provisions of the U.N. Charter would be "a heavy blow" to the new world organization.

In a brief statement before the 14-power committee, the Soviet representative said:

"Soviet Russia will reserve its right to express its opinion more in detail at the right time. I will now say only that these items should be stricken from the agenda."

He referred to Australian and Cuban proposals for a thorough discussion of the veto issue, with a view to restricting its use or eliminating it.

The committee held its first session on approving the program of 53 issues, plus a supplemental list, Thursday night, but became involved in a legalistic snarl over a row between India and South Africa, and failed to get to the veto dispute.

The India-South Africa fight was settled only after Sir Hartley Shawcross had asserted hotly that "we are in danger of reducing" this committee to a laughing stock" by failing to decide a relatively minor question. Committee chairman Paul Henri Spaak said he was not quite sure about the meaning of the votes taken on the question, but added that the Assembly could figure things out for itself.

Assembly Engages In Lengthy Debate

Meanwhile the Assembly itself was pushing forward through a lengthy general debate which today was scheduled to include addresses by Phillip Noel-Baker of Britain, Jose Arce of Argentina, Dr. Carlos Stolk of Venezuela and Mrs. Vijaya Lakshmi Pandit of India.

There was some expectation that Mr. Noel-Baker's speech—setting forth Britain's policies for this session of the peace organization—might present directly to the Assembly recently expressed British government views favoring eventual modification of the Big Five veto power.

Mrs. Pandit was understood to be prepared to present India's charges of racial discrimination against Indians in South Africa. In general debate a speaker may talk about anything he wants to.

The situation was this: More than 50 years ago South Africa imported many Indians as laborers. The Indian government today considers their descendants are being discriminated against and has asked the Assembly consider the situation.

Ontario Argues Privy Council Not Exclusively English Body

LONDON (CP)—The Privy Council hearing on whether Canada should sever her last judicial link with Britain by abolishing the right of appeal to the Privy Council in Canadian law cases reopened today before Lord Chancellor Jowitt and six other law lords of the Judicial Committee with C. R. Magone, K.C., of Toronto, arguing for the Attorney-General of Ontario that the Privy Council "is not an English body in any exclusive sense."

Pursing Ontario's argument against the validity of the Canadian Parliament's "Bill 9," which would abolish the right of appeal to the Privy Council, Mr. Magone quoted the words of Lord Haldane in 1926 that the Privy Council is "no more an English body than it is an Indian body or a Canadian body or a South African body."

Mr. Magone said Lord Haldane had emphasized that the Privy Councilors might be judges from Canada, India, Australia or South Africa. It was not a body with any location, Lord Haldane had said, "since the sovereign is everywhere throughout the Empire in contemplation of the law."

and it was only for convenience that he sat in London.

The Privy Council, Lord Haldane had said, was an "Imperial court which represents the Empire and not any particular part of it."

In the hearing, which opened Wednesday, Canada, Manitoba and Saskatchewan will be heard in support of Bill 9. Provinces opposing it are Ontario, Quebec, British Columbia and New Brunswick.

Viscount Simon, a law lord, interjected during Mr. Magone's argument, saying there was one aspect of the Privy Council which might be regarded as "having a connection with the Crown in the right of Britain as distinct from Canada in the right of Canada."

That aspect, said Lord Simon, "is that members of the Privy Council qualified to sit on the Judicial Committee are appointed on the advice of the British Prime Minister."

Mr. Magone then read a 9,000 word judgment by Mr. Justice Oswald Crockett, who in 1939 dissented from a Supreme Court of Canada decision that Bill 9 was intra vires of the Canadian Parliament.

Had Wrong Edens Visiting Toronto

TORONTO (CP)—It all boiled down to an erroneous announcement by a press relations man, this business about Rt. Hon.
Anthony Eden and his wife being en route to Toronto via New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Eden came to Toronto today, but they were not the former British Foreign Secretary and his wife. They were Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Howard Eden.

American Airlines announced Thursday that the wartime Foreign Secretary and his wife were coming to Toronto-Friday morning. Government officials in Ottawa, Washington and London, all said in effect: "Really?
We've heard nothing of it. The visit must be unofficial."

The story was published in newspapers, was broadcast and cabled abroad.

Finally, in London today, Conservative headquarters said Mr.
Eden was still there, had no intention of flying to Canada.

In Toronto today, Mr. and Mrs.
Douglas Howard Eden arrived
by plane from Britain.

At American Airlines they said: "Our press officer is not around at present... someone apparently got confused over the name Eden."

Soy Beans Pay Off

CHICAGO (AP)—Soy beans,
the "wonder bean" of the Orient, today was returning wonderful prices to farmers harvesting a crop almost twice as large as those produced immediately prior to the war.

When price ceilings were removed from fats and oils last week they went off this "Little Honorable God," as the Chinese long ago named the soy bean.
Since decontrol prices have spurred to record highs.

Beans are selling on the Chicago market at around $3.50 a bushel. This compares with a ceiling of $2.32 in effect before decontrol.

Some Bright Spots In Otherwise Dim Picture Of U.S. Labor Front

NEW YORK (AP)—The threat of a shutdown of United States soft coal mines remained today, but there were a few bright spots on the labor front.

One strike, nearly six months' old, involving 900 workers at the Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing Company plant at La Crosse, Wis., ended and there were indications of breaks in the country-wide maritime walkout, the work stoppage by Trans-World Airline pilots and in the A.F.L. jurisdictional dispute in the Hollywood movie studios.

The ending of the walkout at the Allis-Chalmers plant at La Crosse left only two of the company's factories still strike-bound, in Milwaukee, the firm's largest, and Boston. The C.I.O. industrial union at La Crosse ratified a contract providing a 13 1/2-cent wage increase and other changes.

Settlement on the Atlantic and Gulf coasts of the strike of deck officers hinged on acceptance of a new proposal made to ship operators by the Masters' Mates' and Pilots' Union (A.F.L.), a spokesman at the negotiations here did not disclose the proposal, but said its acceptance would settle the 25-day old walkout. Wages and preferential hiring were the chief issues in the dispute.

Both unions also are on strike on the Pacific coast, but negotiations are not being pressed until settlement of the east and Gulf coast dispute.

In the five-day-old strike by 1,400 TWA pilots, which has made idle some 15,000 company employees, company and officials of the Air Line Pilots' Association (A.F.L.) resumed discussion in Washington before the National Mediation Board.
The pilots are demanding wage increases and revised working rules.

In Washington, President Truman did not enter into the soft coal dispute, leaving Interior Secretary J. A. Krug to work out the problem of meeting with John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers (A.F.L.),

Nov. 1 to reopen wage negotiations. Mr. Lewis has warned Mr.
Krug that failure to reopen the discussions would mean a work stoppage for 400,000 soft coal miners.

Negotiating Sale Of Prince Rupert Plant

MONTREAL (CP)—Projected sale of facilities at Prince Rupert, B.C., occupied by the United States army during the war, is still under negotiation, a War Assets Corporation spokesman said today.

Communist Stand On Hankow Railroad Fails, Report Says

PEIPING (AP)—Collapse of Chinese Communist resistance along the Peiping-Hankow railway front today was reported by government military sources, who said the main Red force was in retreat to the hills.

As the Communist offensive, aimed at the government lifeline to embattled North China, apparently fell apart the armed forces of Chiang Kai-shek redoubled their efforts on a new seaboard front to the east.

Government dispatches said
Chinese warships standing out in the Gulf of Chihli bombarded the Communist port of Chefoo for the second straight day, braving the fire of Communist shore batteries.

This port, across the gulf from Dairen and Port Arthur, has been a jumping-off point for Communist forces raiding government-held areas of southern Manchuria and is strongly defended by an estimated 100,000 troops.

There was no further word from the land fighting around Chefoo, where Chinese fought Chinese in the suburbs, but it seemed the government was bent on severing this link between Communists in Manchuria and their redoubt in mountainous Shantung province.

By government accounts, the fighting inland along the Peiping-Hankow railway had reached the mop-up stage.

The 94th Army was assaulting Hsushui, last town still in Communist hands on the north section of the railway. The town is 23 miles north of Paoting, Hopeh province capital 90 miles southwest of Peiping.

Office of the Secretary of Navy, urged universal military training.

GROUNDLESS FEARS

NOTHING IN THE MUTUALLY-BENEFICIAL arrangement recently entered into between the provincial government and the British Columbia Electric Railway Company suggests that the former is about to gobble up the latter by a series of what the morning paper describes as "bites." Our contemporary's lengthy editorial dissertation on the subject not only fails to recognize the main reasons for this practical manifestation of the co-operative spirit; it bases its thesis on a collection of purely hypothetical postulates which have entered into the calculations of neither the Premier of the province nor the company's President Grauer.

When the chief executive of the B.C.E.R. announced that he would put no obstacle in the way of acquisition of certain properties by the normal procedure of expropriation, because he considered such action a "geographical natural," he was merely emphasizing the fundamental prerequisite for the efficient administration of a public utility. In other words, Mr. Grauer, a product of the modern school of business management, realizes that industrial expansion—if it is to be profitable in every sense of the term and render maximum service to the public within the confines of sound economics—must derive its driving force from joint endeavor. Admittedly, there are numerous projects which lend themselves to private enterprise and others to public ownership; but it is equally true that in a potentially-rich province like British Columbia, now on the threshold of substantial expansion, a combination of the two is manifestly in the best interests of the taxpayers. This is the essence of the "understanding" between the Coalition government and the B.C.E.R. in respect of certain of the latter's holdings on Vancouver Island and in the lower central Interior.

Judged by the tone of its editorial outburst, however, it would appear that the morning paper's fear of a "monopoly" for the B.C. Power Commission derives from an ill-digested concept of a "geographical natural" and the economic implications which Mr. Grauer breathed into the term. What strikes us as stranger still, moreover, is the complete somersault which our contemporary has executed in so short a time on the subject of monopoly. Not so very long ago it was battling with all its editorial foot, horse and artillery in the cause of amalgamation of Canada's two transportation systems—despite Mr. Bennett's plea for "co-operation ever, amalgamation never." Yet it is now presumably horrified by the chimera it has created in the present case—and is apparently not dismayed because its stand is unique among the newspapers of the province.

GOOD RESULT, POOR TURNOUT

BY THE VOTE OF WHAT WAS RELATIVELY but a handful of ratepayers, Victoria has extricated itself from direct involvement in the exhibition and horse racing businesses and has left operations in those fields to interests most vitally concerned. At the same time, it has approved an addition of $125,000 to the funds available for the civic arena. The course which has been followed doubtless reflects the wishes of the majority of the citizens, although the vote that was polled was so small that it can be taken merely as an index. Only 1,785 of the 13,000 entitled to the franchise exercised their rights.

For many reasons the outcome of yesterday's balloting will be applauded. The ratification of council plans to sell the fair grounds and racing plant to private interests removes a source of irritation between the city and Oak Bay. Any negotiations required in future will be between the latter municipality and the Colwood Park Association Ltd. Moreover, the city will escape the costs of expensive repairs to existing buildings and will avoid the annual maintenance charges which have been a constant drain on Victoria taxpayers. Reasonable citizens will appreciate those points. These benefits would have accrued, of course, had any private concern made the purchase. And while there may be grounds for discussion over the relative merits of other interests which have submitted offers for the property, the fact remains that Victoria has accepted the highest bid.

The one discouraging factor apparent in yesterday's decision is the apathy with which the issue was treated by the ratepayers. This disinclination of qualified voters to exercise the franchise is something that reflects very little credit on the city. It is a revelation of the weakness which disinterestedness creates in a fundamental democratic institution.

THE BIGGEST ASPIDISTRA . . .

BRITISH COLUMBIANS HAVE NEVER claimed Paul Bunyan, the legendary lumberjack whose prowess is sung in the Pacific northwest states. They will admit he would have been a very fair whistle-punk and quite competent to handle some of the lesser assignments of the larger operations hereabout. Nevertheless they leave that figure to his natural habitat. And the British Columbian will admit that the sequoia probably is the biggest tree on earth and that its finest specimens grow in California. But when the size of Douglas firs comes into question and Tacoma reports "the largest known to have been felled," our neighbors are claiming too much. The Washington tree was no match stick. It reputedly measured 13 feet across the butt. That was approximately half the size of one reported, but not confirmed, in British Columbia forests several years ago. We point to the specimen Mr. John F. Palmer recalls in Lynn Valley late in the nineties, which measures 77 feet around and 25 feet in diameter.

We compliment the men who cut the tree in the Packwood Forest, southwest of Mount Rainier, the other day. But if it is big Douglas firs they want to talk about, there are a few "sticks" still standing on this island that may give them a better understanding of proportions.

REASONABLE REQUEST

THE RESPONSIBLE PRESS WILL GIVE sober consideration to the plea of M. Paul-Henri Spaak, president of the United Nations Assembly, who emphasized the importance of its mission at the opening of the New York sessions on Wednesday. He specifically requested that it "agree not to dramatize unnecessarily our debates; that it will refrain as far as it can from dwelling on the sensational aspects of the news it distributes, and that on the other hand it will be a powerful and active agent for mutual understanding, and that it will not present as a weak statesman that statesman who seeks the path of conciliation and accepts compromise."

In other words, M. Spaak asks the medium by which news of the Assembly's activities will be given to readers in all nations to weigh carefully its responsibilities, to participate in constructive efforts to create the essential understanding required to promote the cause of peace and progress, and to forego any inclination to magnify differences in such a way as to destroy public confidence or inflame national tempers. It is a reasonable request. Nothing the Assembly president has said challenges the freedom of the press or its right and obligation to watch developments at the sessions with a critical eye.

Though he declined to make the point, Mr. Spaak might have supported his argument by asking where lie many of the crises of yesterday's garish headlines? It may be true that sensational reporting often provides more titillating reading; but the best coverage of activities of this vital organization will be accomplished by the serious and sincere agencies which recognize the importance of the contribution they can make to its success.

STRANGE CENSORSHIP

STRANGE INDEED ARE THE WORKINGS of the censorial mind. And none of recent memory is stranger than the mental process which evolved the decision to ban a Japanese newspaper editorial which informed the Japs that General MacArthur was not a living god, and counseled them to begin thinking of him as a symbol of democracy and not "the reincarnation of the Emperor Jimmu."

This editorial first appeared in a paper bearing the fascinating name of Jiji Shimpo. The censors did not object to its being printed for and read by the Japanese. But when it was translated into English and reprinted in the Nippon Times—whose circulation is largely among Allied occupation troops—the occupation government promptly put the lid on.

By the best democratic standards, the Japanese editorial was eminently sensible. It deplored the ancient and persistent Nipponese habit of hero worship. It pointed out that many who think the American general the last word in human perfection had thought the same thing about Hitler. It cautioned that such thinking might lead to a search for a "superman" dictator, after General MacArthur's departure, who might revive the conditions and thinking that led Japan into the recent war. Perhaps the occupation authorities prefer a servile people as being easier to manage. It may be that they think of themselves as conquerors rather than educators who, for the good of world peace as well as of the Japanese, must lead the former enemy nation toward democratic enlightenment.

We do not know that this is so. But we are reasonably sure that the Japs are also studying the editorial and wondering at the reasons for keeping it out of the hands of the soldier-citizens of a democratic nation. It could scarcely be hoped that whatever conclusion they reach would be flattering. And they might have a right to think that if it were not against occupation policy for a Japanese newspaper to preach democracy to its readers, at least it was against that policy to permit the occupation troops to know it. But whoever was responsible seems to have committed a senseless error.

INDIA'S SORE TRAVAIL

DAILY REPORTS FROM INDIA SEEM to emphasize increasing seriousness in the general conditions prevailing in that great sub-continent. By no stretch of the imagination can even the bitterest critics of Britain or the British government place the blame on Westminster. The present situation, however, is a new reminder of how right many wise statesmen were when they tried to impress upon the world how difficult it would be for Hindu and Moslem to compose their differences and bring tranquility to the land as an independent state. Dogmatic columnists in this and other countries, especially those who set themselves up as the sole defenders of the people against "imperialism" and what they loosely term "Fascism," must now find new outlets for their anti-British fulminations.

Higher Rail Rates

By R. J. DEACHMAN

Transportation in the coming years will be highly competitive. Railway wage rates are maintained now by an exceptionally high volume of traffic due to war. The future is uncertain. There are grave risks in the policy which labor has accepted, risks to labor, risks to the nation as a whole.—From "The Road to Lower Freight Rates," July 7, 1945.

THE EXPECTED has happened. Increased wage rates have brought a request for higher freight rates. The 1945 annual reports of our Canadian railways showed sharp increases in operating costs above prewar levels. Labor costs accounted for most of this—it appeared in direct wages and in higher costs of materials.

We watched these changes, we knew they were taking place. Labor received its increases in 1945, came back, received them again in 1946. The inevitable happened. These increases impinged on costs of moving the goods. When costs rise, freight rates must go up. Something must be done. We cannot see the arteries of trade and commerce weakened from malnutrition, the railways of Canada must be put in a position to carry on.

I have pointed out these things times without number but if there is one purpose clearly fixed in the mind of the public it is this: It will not anticipate events. The announcement of coming wage increases did not cause a ripple on the shores of Canadian thought. The forces of resistance have been weakened in the last few years. We have a large and powerful government-owned railway and no government owning a railway is in a position to negotiate with the workers of that railway on rates of pay. It will always have the strongest possible temptation to yield.

THE FARMERS WHO should be vocal in these matters are tongue-tied, they are hoping to raise world wheat prices by cartel control of wheat marketing, coupled with "dumping" for the sake of charity. This induces quiet and repose in regard to other problems—they left labor to look after freight rates.

The more the government is mixed up in these complex arrangements, the more hopeless do the people become. There should be strong and vigorous organizations in the Dominion of Canada to defend the interests of the people as a whole by seeing that at every point of public contact the facts are brought out. In a case of this kind they would take steps to protect, effectively, the interests of the public as well as those of organized labor which in the fight for higher wage rates takes desperate chances on unemployment.

THE RAILWAYMEN should study the facts. Marked changes have taken place in recent years in the number of railway employees. From a high of 187,846 in 1929, they dropped to 127,824 in 1938—rose under the stress of war to 180,603 in 1945.

What of the future? What chance is there that traffic volume will continue at present high levels. We have an agreement for the sale of wheat. It is to bring us $1.55 at lake ports for this year and the next but the pre-war arrangement for 1949-1950 calls for $1.00. If wheat falls in price so will the price of other farm products. Traffic volume will decline.

Meanwhile truck competition will return to the railways. Airways are bound to carry more traffic, especially mails, express and passenger business. Railways must and will endeavor to meet these conditions by greater efficiency, more economies. These changes will not increase the number of workers employed nor will they increase total payrolls.

I SUGGEST THAT labor look back on the record of its own employment. John L. McDougall of Queen's University put the case clearly in a booklet entitled "Railway Wage-Rates, Employment and Pay."

"Do they (the railway workers) want ever-rising wages for an ever-shrinking body of employees, or do they want to remain in balance with the rest of the community to work for general prosperity and an enlargement of the total wages bill? The choice may demand a certain break with past habits of easy (and fallacious) thinking. But ultimately it is a question which they cannot dodge. As monopolists, they can achieve their aims only by accepting that control which every monopolist must accept—they can get their price per unit only by a complete willingness to limit the amount offered to what the public can or will take at that price. Santa Claus died a long time ago."

THE RAILWAY WORKERS are trying to exchange full employment for higher rates of pay. The exchange will actually take place—an ever-shrinking body of employees—a higher nominal wage, most of it eaten up in higher costs of living is the goal they now seek, the destiny they will achieve.

Quoting

The sooner manufacturers get into full production, the sooner they will reach the stage where all controls can be removed.—O.P.A. Administrator Paul A. Porter.

As long as we do not get political guarantees that seem necessary to us we are opposed to the creation of a prosperous Germany.—French official at Peace Conference.

Whether you speak of marital unhappiness or family disagreements or contention between management and labor or strife between nations, the unmistakable characteristics of childishness, self-consciousness, self-importance and unwillingness to accept responsibility or blame are present to throw sand in the wheels of progress and growth.—Rev. Dr. Theodore Cuyler Speers of New York.

GLOBAL SURVEY

By J. M. ROBERTS JR.
Associated Press Foreign Affairs Analyst

One of the claims made in behalf of the Labor Party in its 1945 campaign for control of the British government was that it would be able to get along better with Russia than could Winston Churchill's Conservatives.

Now, 1½ years later, we find the Labor Prime Minister speaking bitterly of Russia's isolationism and propaganda warfare against every system except her own. Mr. Attlee, as the London dispatches point out, has taken a view very similar to that of Mr. Churchill in his famous speech at Fulton, Mo.

This cannot properly be termed a turn of events, since there never was any official indication that the Labor Party would depart from the traditional British foreign policy. Neither Socialism nor Communism has yet equalled the force of nationalism. But it does serve to emphasize how far Russia has gone within a comparatively short period to antagonize non-Communist elements abroad with whom she might have been able to establish at least a modicum of co-operation.

This also is evident in the vociferous campaign now being waged for elimination or modification of the veto right in the U.N. Security Council, where Russian usage has weakened the support originally given the veto idea by Britain and, particularly, the United States. The latter, a reservoir of things which others covet, containing industrial power which has decided two great wars and the most likely initial target for the next, has the best reasons of all for desiring to retain the veto for self-protection. United States interests are world-wide. She does not wish to have outsiders vote her, willy nilly, into positions at violent variance with these interests, no matter how wholehearted her support of the U.N. To that extent, the United States' position on the veto is much like that of Russia.

But to have one country use the veto to help establish half a world of its own, vis-a-vis the other half, was never envisioned. It is such intemperance which has produced the strange picture

Dr. Nejla Izzeddin Speaks To Women

Members of the Women's Canadian Club gathered in the Empress Hotel Thursday afternoon to hear Miss Nejla Izzeddin, a member of the Arab office in Washington, speak on the important place the Arab countries hold in the world of today.

Miss Izzeddin spoke of the great movement toward freedom going on in her country and said that freedom meant reforms.

She pointed to Egypt, first of the Arab states to obtain freedom, and the great movements taking place there in the building of hospitals and the education of the people.

Egypt is striving for new industries, she said, realizing that agriculture alone will not help the country to progress. These new industries are employing many hundreds of workers.

Dr. Izzeddin spoke of the great work being done by the Arab League, which is an instrument of peace, she said, in the East today.

Mrs. K. C. Drury presided and Rodney Nixon, president of the Students' Council of Victoria High School, delighted the audience with several solos, accompanied by Miss Evelyn Prisk.

Prior to the speaker's address, John Francis Boucher, winner of the Women's Canadian Club bursary, was introduced to the audience. Marjorie Ellen Dupont, another bursary winner, was unable to attend.

Announcement was made of an open meeting in the lower lounge at the Empress Hotel on Nov. 1 at 2.30, at which the speaker will be Dr. Steven Taylor, who will talk on "Social Security in the United Kingdom." As this will be the only time Dr. Taylor will speak in the city, it was decided that it should be open to the public.

The next regular meeting, Nov. 7 at 2.45, Dr. Lotta Hirschmanova will speak. Rt. Hon. Vincent Massey, High Commissioner for Canada in Great Britain, will address the club on Nov. 12 and on Nov. 27, Kenneth Drury will speak on his recent visit to Europe.

Blue Jeans And Gingham At Farmerette Dance

Ken Quest, Rita Kaltenbach, Bill King and Kay Stromkins, left to right, "dress up" for the occasion. The funnier the costume the more popular it was at the Crystal Garden, Thursday night.

Hay stacks and corn stalks, pumpkins and apples set the scene for the Farmerette dance held in the Lower Crystal Hall, Thursday evening by the Solarium Junior League.

Plaid shirts, with tails flapping over blue jeans and overalls set the theme, as farmerettes with their farmer escorts cut capers to the music of Len Acres' orchestra.

A few farmers came armed with their shotguns and corn-cob pipes where much in evidence. Girls presented the men of their choice with fragrant bouquets of carrots and onions.

At supper time, couples sat around the floor and enjoyed the box lunches packed by the girls.

A floor-show was provided by pupils of Velda Wille's dancing school.

Miss Gwen Mann was convener, assisted by Mrs. J. R. Scaplen, Mrs. H. Damaske and Miss Jean Bird.

Prizes for the best-dressed farmerette and farmer went to Mrs. Helen Denbigh, 1029 Belmont Avenue, and Gene Brown, 1392 Rockland Avenue.

WIVES HANKER TERMS OF AFFECTION FROM OTHERS—WISE CONSIDERATE MATES

I have a tear-sodden letter from a woman who tells me that she is married to a man who is the perfect husband, except for one thing. He does not call her pet names. She says that no man could be kinder or tenderer or more considerate to a woman than he is to her, and that he is a good provider who gives her everything she wants, except the big thing she wants most, and that is to be fussed over and babied.

In particular she craves to be addressed as sweetheart, darling, angel face, beautiful, lovey-dovey, cutie, girly, babies and so on. Probably she would adore being called my little cabbage, after the French fashion of endearment, but the heartless wretch apparently has no such words in his vocabulary. He just calls her plain Maria and it is breaking her heart. She can't take it.

This unhappy wife has an unusually violent case of palaveritis, but there are millions of other wives who are suffering from the same complaint. They put more stress on words than they do on deeds and because their husbands are dumb love-makers they believe that they have lost their John's affection, and go about bemoaning their sad fate as women who have given their all to men who never hand them any soft talk, as you might throw a bone to a hungry dog.

REAL PROOF OF DEVOTION:

Of course, it seems incredible that an otherwise intelligent woman would not know that the husband who spends his life toiling like a slave to keep her soft and safe and who never stirs from his own fireside of an evening, unless Mother goes with him, is giving the best possible proof of his devotion. He is saying it with cars and trips and shopping tickets instead of with glib phrases.

But for many women that is not enough. They want the luxuries, but they also want to be flattered and cajoled. They want their husbands to call them "little girls" after they are grandmas and never to cease telling them how beautiful and wonderful they are. There is nothing they resent so much as their husbands taking them for granted. Yet, in reality, it is the greatest compliment that a man can pay his wife. For it shows that he thinks she is just all right in every way and there is no need of any comments.

CHEAPEST WAY

However, marvel as we may over wives' desire to be called pet names, it is equally strange why husbands, who are bound to be aware of this curious feminine trait, do not gratify it. If Friend Wife yearns to be called Sweetums instead of Mary Jane, why, in heaven's name, haven't husbands the gumption to do it? When they know that their wives are hungering and thirsting to be told that they are the only woman in the world to them, why don't husbands take the trouble to tell them so in words, instead of expecting them to be mind-readers and know how they feel about them?

It would solve practically all of men's domestic problems in the easiest and cheapest way. For words cost far less than mink coats, and the husband who keeps his wife buttered up with verbal assurances of his affection doesn't have to prove it with checks.

But whether the wife who pines to be called pet names, or the husband who won't "darling" her, is the more stupid, is anybody's guess.

Social Situations

The Situation: Your guests say that they have to go home.

Wrong Way: Feel that you must keep protesting against their leaving.

Right Way: Say, "Do you have to leave so soon?"—and then, if they still seem to want to go, let them go without protest.

Overseas Parcel—Food items for the monthly overseas parcel were collected and packed at a social meeting of the Venture Club held at the home of Mrs. Theima Stephenson, Cadboro Bay Road. Misses Loree Pollard, Jill Gore-Langton, Gertrude Campbell, Emily Wakelyn and Marion Day were introduced as prospective club members. Prize winners for the evening were Miss Dorothy Trenholm and Mary Brooke. Others present were Misses Marjorie and Jean Laidlaw, Virginia Ross, Peggie Smith, Eleanor Brooke, Muriel Williams, Moya Porter and Ursula Pottinger.

Favor Buying Land For Airpark Despite Oak Bay And Saanich

Ald. Edward Williams, as chairman of the joint finance-airport committee, will recommend to Monday's City Council meeting that the committee be authorized to purchase the 57.3 acres of naval property at Gordon Head at the lowest possible figure; the land to be used for an airpark.

This was decided by the two committees after Reeve A. G. Lambrick of Saanich and Reeve Walter Walker of Oak Bay had indicated strongly at a meeting Thursday that they would not be prepared to support their municipalities coming in on the venture as a Greater Victoria project. Reeve Thomas Hadfield of Esquimalt said that he was sure Esquimalt would be prepared to contribute its share towards the airpark proposition as a Memorial Airpark in honor of those who died in the Air Force.

Ald. Williams and Mayor Percy George made it plain from the beginning of the discussion that it was a question of having a Greater Victoria airpark, or Victoria "going it alone." The council has an option on the property until Nov. 2, and the price which has been quoted by War Assets Corporation, which

British Problems Subject Of Talk

Because of new weapons Britain was no longer capable of defending herself and lacked the space to spread out industries essential for her military power, Kenneth Drury, editor of the Vancouver News Herald, told the members of the Rotary Club at their luncheon meeting at the Empress Hotel Thursday.

Mr. Drury, who accompanied 17 Canadian newspapermen on a recent tour to England and Europe, said that Britain's defence policy could be summed up as Empire defence in depth. He said East Africa was now being rushed to completion as a major defence base in case, Britain has to withdraw from Palestine and other Mediterranean strongholds. Of Britain's public men, Mr. Drury said Canadian newspapermen left England with a high regard for the leaders of the British government. "The tolerant attitude of her public men is one of the reasons of Britain's greatness," he said.

Stating that Britain was suffering from a deficit of 60,000; 000 tons of coal this year, Mr. Drury said the English people would suffer from a serious shortage of fuel and food this winter.

"The coal situation is considered a serious problem," he said. "If Britain had been able to produce coal for its domestic requirements and 50,000,000 tons a year for export as in 1939, then Britain could have avoided the necessity of accepting the U.S. loan."

Churchill was pessimistic with regard to the future of Britain, he said. He quoted Churchill as saying that Holland and Belgium, squeezed down and compressed during the war, were now rebounding, while Britain which had served like a blood donor during war, was not now bounding back.

Mr. Drury said that Churchill was of the opinion that the Communist party might come into power in 20 years or so as the result of the action of the Labor party in throwing out the Communists. He said the formation of a Leftist party in England might lead to a coalition between Labor and Conservatives in time.

the City Council would much prefer to have all the municipalities of Greater Victoria participate, but he stressed that action would have to be taken immediately or the opportunity to establish an airpark in the favored Gordon Head location would be gone irrevocably.

Reeve Lambrick questioned if the idea was to establish an airpark, or if it were the beginning of a move to have a full-fledged airport. He emphasized that the residents of Gordon Head district were very patriotic and would favor having a Memorial Airpark if it were established anywhere but in their midst.

He recalled the vote taken in 1931 when Victoria turned down the idea of having an airport at Gordon Head by a 10 to one vote, following which the area was zoned for residential purposes and now had a number of palatial homes.

He warned that Saanich might be liable for payment of depreciation on the property if the airpark was put there, and that the residents had indicated they would fight the project to the end.

Reeve Lambrick also felt that the manner in which the question had been approached had antagonized the Gordon Head residents, and that if it were pursued it would damage the Greater Victoria movement.

He reiterated previous opinions expressed by him of the dangers of having an airpark or airport too close to centres of population.

Reeve Walker then stated that, speaking personally, he felt the same as Reeve Lambrick and he thought the people of Oak Bay would not like the airpark there either.

Reeve Hadfield said that he felt sure Esquimalt would be prepared to contribute its share in the establishing of the airpark, although he admitted that they were not personally involved in the location.

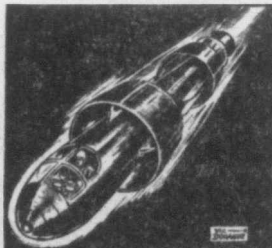

"This means then," said Ald. Williams, "that Esquimalt is with us and Oak Bay and Saanich are not. I think we should purchase the property for future development, and the details about the financing of the development can be negotiated with the veterans' groups later on."

CAT'S HEAD IN JAR

Recommend 50 More Wartime Houses In Victoria West

The recommendation that the city enter into a further agreement with Wartime Housing Ltd. for the construction of 50 more homes for veterans will be made Monday to the City Council, Ald. R. A. C. Dewar, chairman of the lands, zoning and housing committee, said after a meeting Thursday.

Tentatively a number of lots in Victoria West have been picked as the site for the houses, Ald. Dewar said, 27 of them being in one block which has all the services already installed.

He strongly criticized Oak Bay and Saanich for not assisting in the housing emergency by entering into an agreement to have some of the Wartime houses built in their municipalities.

"Either Oak Bay or Saanich could have agreed to take over the Gordon Head camp for conversion into emergency housing units too," he insisted, "Instead of leaving the entire responsibility of trying to alleviate the housing crisis in the area to the city."

At the same meeting the committee reviewed the agreements with Wartime Housing Ltd. under which the first two projects in Burnside were erected, with a view to getting more taxes than the present $24 and $30 which is paid on each house by the federal authorities in lieu of taxes.

Concentration Camp Head To Be Hanged

PRAGUE (Reuter) — Henrich Joeekl, 47, commander of the Terezin concentration camp where Jews were forced to fight to the death with pitchforks, today was sentenced to be hanged.

A people's court found him guilty of murder, manslaughter and blackmail.

Joeekl was in charge of "Little Fortress Terezin," used as a special camp for Czech politicians. His plan to destroy the fortress and all its inmates in one great explosion was foiled by the quickness of the Russian liberation and the timidity of his men, and he fled, leaving witnesses and evidence behind.

MONTREAL (CP) — Conferences between representatives of the Southam Publishing Company and the International Typographical Union, with a view toward settlement of matters in dispute, ended Thursday without an agreement being reached, it was reliably learned.

The conferences began here Wednesday. Philip S. Fisher and W. J. Watson, represented the Southam Company, and Woodruff Randolph and Harry Finch, the union.

It was understood Mr. Justice S. E. Richards of the Manitoba Appeal Court, who last Sept. 25 was named an industrial disputes inquiry commissioner, is returning to Winnipeg.

Mr. Justice Richards said he had no statement to make.

ONE MINUTE NEWS ABOUT
JOHNS-MANVILLE

Modern Magic Is Centuries Old

From marine life which was alive millions of years ago comes a material called diatomaceous silica. Possibly you've never heard of it, but it plays an important part in the dry cleaning of your clothes. You see, this is the raw material from which Johns-Manville Celite is produced—and, a form of Celite called Hyflo is widely used in the dry cleaning industry to remove dirt and other impurities from the cleaning fluids. Hyflo, plus the modern equipment used in the dry cleaning industry today, enables dry cleaners to turn out high quality work in the shortest possible time, at the lowest possible cost.

For details on Hyflo and Celite write Canadian Johns-Manville, 199 Bay Street, Toronto.

Delegates Named To Go To Ottawa Regarding Hospital

J. J. Wittcomb, Dominion executive representative of the Canadian Legion, and Peter Barr, zone representative of the Provincial Command, will go to Ottawa to attend a meeting of the Dominion executive Nov. 11 and will discuss the building of a Class 5 hospital on property recently offered by Victoria; it was decided Thursday night at a meeting of the District Zone Council.

The same committee, with Robert Knight, president of the Zone Council, will interview government officials at the Naval Dockyard on war veterans' preference in employment.

Conversion of army huts at Macaulay Point into veterans' housing as soon as possible was urged by members. The council asked that all material required for this purpose be released immediately to the Citizens' Rehabilitation Council.

Headquarters for Poppy Day are located at 1112 Langley Street, it was announced. Delegates from the new Ad Astra Branch were welcomed, and a resolution from the branch was passed offering the Minister for Air its full support in the formation of an auxiliary squadron here and the maintenance of an air cadet squadron.

The council also passed a resolution asking that the Corps of Firefighters receive the same consideration as members of the armed services who joined as firefighters and remained in Canada.

Total membership in the Canadian Legion in Greater Victoria now totals 6,000, it was reported.

Navy Week Draws Interest

Ldg. Sgmn. E. E. Wackett, Victoria, greets his wife, Ruby, and their daughter, Mary Lou, who became one year old today, as they board the destroyer Crescent, now in Victoria for public inspection as part of the Navy Week program.

Ldg. Tel. A. Ireland, Saskatoon, sits by his instruments in H.M.C.S. Naden's radio technical room, and watches while Mrs. R. Rowan, Victoria, listens in on a ship-to-ship conversation between a Victoria visitor and a sailor. At the extreme right is Miss Eileen Knight, Victoria, another Navy Week visitor, and in the background is Sgmn. J. E. Radley, Winnipeg.

adding that it felt publication of the pictures would add "nothing to the information, satisfaction or instruction of the public."

Rotary To Send Gift To Britain

As a gesture of good fellowship the Victoria Rotary Club will send a Christmas gift to a Rotary Club in Great Britain.

Members, at a meeting held Thursday, unanimously approved a plan to send apples or some other food item to a British club for distribution to the English people. The club hopes to raise a sum of $200 for this purpose through voluntary subscriptions of its members.

It was disclosed that the gift will either be sent to a Rotary Club in Coventry or Hull, two of the worst-bombed areas in the United Kingdom.

In announcing the plan, S. L. Hobbs, president, stressed the hardships the British people were going through at the present time and said the gift would be a gesture of good fellowship.

Aged Woman's Poor Driving Is Scored

After hearing that a 72-year-old woman driver facing a traffic charge had failed to take "the most elementary of precautions" while in charge of a car, Magistrate C. Hall Thursday in Saanich Police Court decided to further consider judgment in her case. She was remanded to next Thursday.

Evidence showed the woman had taken but a single look to see if there was any traffic on the main road, had then backed her car 50 yards out onto the road, without a halt at the end of the driveway, and collided with a truck. Above the noise of the car's engine she had not heard the truck's horn sounding.

"What is really troubling me is that it might be a kindness to take your license away," said the magistrate.

Bombed Fish From Bikini Examined

SEATTLE (AP)—Three months after the last atom bomb exploded at Bikini Lagoon professors of the University of Washington school of fisheries are handling with rubber gloves dead fish taken from the waters of the area.

Between 5,000 and 6,000 fish, obtained by a variety of means from the lagoon and surrounding waters, have been received by the university's department of fisheries for study.

Lauren R. Donaldson, associate professor of fisheries, who is directing the research, won't say much about what has already been learned about the effect of the bombing on fish life. That is top secret, but he will admit there is plenty of radiation left in the barrels of fish carcasses stored in the laboratory.

MEMBERS of the Parks Board made a wise decision this week in reversing a previous ruling which grants teams of the Wednesday Football League use of the pitch at Athletic Park. Whether or not the midweekers continue to perform there apparently hinges on the number of spectators the clubs draw through the turnstiles. It seems the teams must take in a big enough gate to meet the expenses incurred. The city fathers take the stand there at a loss to the city. They do not feel it is their duty to subsidize any particular sport or league.

HOWEVER, there is another side of the picture. Athletic Park belongs to the citizens of Victoria. I have been told many times by members of the Parks Board that it is not the object to make money out of the park, but to attempt to operate it at nothing worse than an even break. Of course it is a well-known fact that the park does show a profit each season. In 1945, for instance, the actual expenditure on the park was $3,285 as compared to a revenue of $4,491, showing a profit of $1,206.

TRUE, the Wednesday League clubs may not play a calibre of football that could be called first-class, but what these players lack in ability they make up for in enthusiasm. This league has always been noted for the keen competition it brings out among its respective clubs. The midweek teams provide healthy recreation for a lot of fellows who might otherwise be forced to occupy a place in the sidelines as far as active sport is concerned. Such being the case, they should be encouraged to the greatest degree. The league was revived this season after being forced to call off its activities during the war years. If the city finds the cost of operating the park each Wednesday for the midweek clubs too great an expense, let them grant the park and permit the league to operate its own ticket men. As far as the caretaker is concerned, he will be on duty anyway and no further expenditure is necessary to have him open the gates.

ON SUCCESSIVE Saturdays, starting tomorrow, Victoria soccer fans will have the opportunity to look over the two top-ranking elevens in Vancouver—St. Andrews and North Shore. There is considerable argument back and forth as to just which of these clubs rates the number one spot in the British Columbia soccer picture. In two weeks' time the local followers will be in a much better position to render judgment and it will be interesting to learn which club makes the best impression. At the present time the Saints and Shores are deadlocked at the head of the Pacific Coast League standings, each having lost one game this season.

Junior football teams of the Greater Victoria American and Canadian Football Association will open their six-week winter schedule for the Colonist Cup at Central Park on Nov. 3, with four of the five teams seeing action on that date.

Navy, fifth entry in the circuit, have received a first-round bye.

Bleachers in use during the football season will be available to the gridders and all teams are expected to have cheering sections and cheer leaders present to supply color to the pigskin festivities.

Two League Soccer Matches Sunday

Canadian Legion will clash with Victoria West on Sunday afternoon at Athletic Park in a regular Victoria and District League match. The game promises to be quite a battle as the league leadership will be at stake between these two undefeated elevens.

At Bullen Park, Esquimalt will play host to the up-and-coming Oak Bay eleven in the other scheduled match of the day.

Game time for both contests is 2.30.

Calgary-Winnipeg Play Off High Spot In Canadian Grid Picture

WINNIPEG (CP)—The Bide Bombers left here today for Calgary where they will meet Calgary Stampede tomorrow afternoon in the first of a two-game total point series for the Western Canada Senior Football League championship. The second game will be played at Osborne Stadium here Nov. 2.

As his 27 players boarded the train, Coach Jack West said he would rely on a passing attack and a solid defence system to take Stampede into camp. "This is the first time since early season that the full squad has been in good shape," West said. The game that may determine playoff positions in the Interprovincial Union in the east is the Ottawa clash between the Rough Riders and Toronto Argonauts. With Argos two points ahead of Riders, who beat them 12 to 8 in Toronto last Saturday, old Lansdowne Park should be packed.

Whatever happens here, Montreal Alouettes are expected to come out of the week-end with at least a share of first place, for they are tied with the Argos now and their opponents are the winless Hamilton Tigers at Montreal

The Ontario Union spotlight will be on Hamilton, where the unbeaten Toronto Indians and the second place Wildcats clash. They tied 14 to 14 in a previous meeting. Wildcats falling two points behind by their one loss to Sarnia Imperials.

The Imperials, now tied for third with Balmy Beach of Toronto, can clinch one of the four playoff spots by defeating the fifth-place Rockets at Windsor Saturday. The Beaches can cop the fourth berth by beating the last place Ottawa Trojans in Toronto.

Queen's Grid Fans Must Remain Calm

TORONTO (CP)—Queen's University of Kingston, Ont., will withdraw its football team from the Intercollegiate Rugby Union if the team's supporters damage buildings and property when the team plays against University of Toronto tomorrow.

This ultimatum came from Principal R. C. Wallace of Queen's, who said in a telephone interview that he approved a warning contained in an advertisement inserted Thursday in Toronto newspapers by Queen's Alma Mater Society, urging Queen's supporters to refrain from damaging University of Toronto property. They had been accused of such damage in other years.

Seattle Captures First Place In Coast Ice League

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—The Seattle Ironmen took over the lead in the northern division of the Pacific Coast Hockey League Thursday night by pinning the first defeat of the year on the Portland Eagles 5 to 3.

It was a rough contest of 19 penalties that saw both teams short players through much of the game. Even goalie Jerry Fodey of Portland drew a penalty, an infrequent occurrence. His was for throwing the puck forward in the general excitement. He stayed in the game, however, while winger Red Carr served out the time for him.

ROYALS WIN

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—New Westminster Royals took their first win of the season Thursday night when they laced Tacoma's Rockets 8 to 4 before a crowd of 1,500 fans in a Pacific Coast Hockey League fixture.

Koch, Ulyot and Bentley were the big guns for the locals, each scoring two. Smith and Dorohoy were responsible for the other two.

OAKLAND VICTOR

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—The Oakland Oaks, defending Pacific Coast League hockey champions, got their passing attack working for the first time this season Thursday night to spoil the league debut of the Fresno Falcons 6 to 1.

The Oaks broke the game open in the second period by scoring four times.

Canada Member Of New Soccer Group

NEW YORK (AP)—Soccer representatives from the United States, Cuba, Mexico and Canada probably will meet at Havana in mid-December to form a North American zone of the Pan-American Soccer Football Federation, says chairman G. Randolph Manning of the United States Soccer Football Association's foreign relations committee.

Preliminary plans were completed at a recent meeting of Dr. Manning and Ernesto Azua, soccer advisor to the Cuban sports commission.

The way was reported clear for United States participation when the Mexican Soccer Football Association cleared a long-standing $2,000 debt to the U.S.S.F.A.

Dr. Manning also announced the world open soccer title meet for the Rimet Cup would be held at Rio de Janeiro in 1949.

Week-End Battles Can Shuffle Hockey Clubs

With the teams resting up for an all-out week-end, the National Hockey League came up today with a couple of choice "off-the-cuff" items in a hearty blast at its officials and the revelation that the amazing New York Rangers intend to live in a glass house.

Peppery Conn Smythe of Toronto Maple Leafs was the man with the beef, charging specifically that the scorers at Boston had robbed his Leafs of three scoring assists in the Leafs' 3 to 3 draw with the Bruins. He added he was writing to league president Clarence Campbell asking points for Bob Goldham; Gus Bodnar and Gus Mortson.

The Rangers' came up with a more intriguing item in the announcement that Madison Square Garden's playing surface will be enclosed in glass when the team moves in for their first home game Oct. 30.

TO PROTECT FANS

The announcement last night said the tempered plate glass screen was put around the rink surface to protect fans from flying pucks and swinging sticks. Perhaps so, but from the way the Rangers finished a consistent last in the past three seasons, the management might have had the players' protection at heart too.

At any rate, the Rangers better be good because the glass screen, put up at a cost of $23,000, will not protect them from brickbats from above. It rises just two feet above the 3½ foot boards along the length of the playing surface; five feet high behind the goals.

The Montreal Forum, who originally introduced the glass idea, uses it behind the goals only. They may be thinking now of extending it after the injury to a woman spectator Wednesday night when Maurice Richard lifted the puck over the boards.

With the league standing tightened to a point where only one point separates the first five clubs, the next chance to scramble the standings comes Saturday night when three games are carded. Even the last place Detroit Red Wings could move into the thick of things with a victory.

NORTH WARD LINE-UP

North Ward line-up for the division four juvenile soccer game against Elks at Heywood Avenue at 1.15 tomorrow is as follows: Hollingsworth, Lee, Wetherell, Fawcett, McMillan, Le

Johnny Quilty Will Rejoin Canadians

MONTREAL (CP)—Montreal Canadiens will revert to a 1940-41 forward line combination for their National Hockey League game against Detroit Red Wings here tomorrow night.

Johnny Quilty, Calder trophy winner as the league's best rookie that year, will play at centre, with captain Toe Blake and Joe Benoit on the wings, reuniting the trio which played together six years ago.

Quilty is replacing injured Elmer Lach, who usually plays with Maurice Richard and Blake. Richard will be teamed with Billy Reay and George Allen.

Hayman Praises New Interference Rule

MONTREAL (CP)—Manager Lew Hayman of Montreal Alouettes had a word of praise Thursday for football's 10-yard interference rule and a rebuttal of Toronto charges that his team is using it illegally.

The rule, designed to make the lot of ball carriers easier; "opens up the game for long runs and that's what the public wants," said Hayman, whose Alouettes share first place in the Big Four with Toronto Argonauts. He described as "ill-founded and absolutely wrong" a charge by coach Ted Morris of Argos that Alouettes, instead of respecting the rule that only men on the line can interfere for 10 yards, "use their backfielders for blocking all the time."

Dressen Gives Up Brooklyn Post; May Pilot Yanks

NEW YORK (AP)—It appeared certain today that New York Yankees had acquired either a manager or a coach with the announcement by Charles (Chuck) Dressen that he had resigned as coach of Brooklyn Dodgers.

The little fellow who has served as manager Leo Durocher's right-hand man since 1939 said his adieu to president Branch Rickey Thursday after more than an hour's conference in the latter's office.

Dressen did not say where he was going, but remarked he had a "good job" waiting for him. He might, as far as baseball's insiders were concerned, have added "with my old friend Larry Macphail."

The only question in the minds of most observers was whether president Macphail of the Yanks was offering Dressen the big job as manager, or merely was prepared to pay him a handsome salary to assist the man who eventually is given the pilot's post.

BRILLIANT COACH

Perhaps a slight majority leaned to the latter theory. Although Dressen managed Cincinnati in the early '30s when Macphail was running the Reds, he has gained his greatest recognition as chief signal-stealer of the Dodgers, a job which Macphail also gave him when he took over Brooklyn.

Baseball men give Dressen a large share of the credit for Durocher's success, with the Dodgers. They consider him one of the brainiest of all the coaches, and Macphail's admiration of Dressen in that capacity is second to none. It was felt that the Yankee boss might consider Dressen more valuable as a coach than he would be if saddled with a manager's responsibilities.

On the other hand, if Dressen was not to get the top job it remained difficult to find a candidate with a more logical claim. Macphail has been ill for several days and has declined to take any part in the conjecture as to who will get the job.

The DOCTOR Says:

BALANCED GENERAL DIET BEST FOR AGE

By WILLIAM A. O'BRIEN, M.D.

As we grow older, our thoughts turn to those things which will maintain our efficiency and if possible prolong our lives; there is little hope of life prolongation through special diet, although premature death may be prevented by avoiding dietary extremes (overweight). The diet of aged persons should be the same as that of children except for energy foods. A well-balanced menu, containing meat, fish, eggs, cheese, milk and dairy products, vegetables and fruits and limited amounts of energy foods is indicated. Too often the elderly try to maintain themselves by eating too much bread, cookies, pies, cakes and foods prepared from cereal grains because they are relatively less expensive.

MEAT ISN'T BARRED

Is meat harmful for the aged? If elderly men or women have good teeth they can eat any kind of meat which does not distress them, and they can eat as much meat as they did in the prime of life. The idea that meat is harmful to the aged was based upon an erroneous concept of its effect upon the kidney. It is apparent now that the warning to eat less meat may have been a scheme concocted by some miserly fellow who had to feed his mother-in-law and wanted to cut the cost.

Constipation is not necessarily an accompaniment of advancing years, as it is just as frequent in the young who have poor dietary habits. Simple constipation can be relieved by stopping cathartics, mineral oil and enemas, eating two or more dishes of cooked fruits each day, two to four servings of cooked vegetables, drinking a reasonable amount of water including a glass after arising in the morning, and taking some regular form of exercise, such as walking a certain distance each day.

Excessive weight in the aged is a handicap to getting around and simple weight reduction is indicated. Better still would be to maintain the weight 10 to 20 pounds below average after the age of 45 to 50, as life expectancy tables show the longest life in underweights.

FOOD FADS ARE FUTILE

If large quantities of food distress aged persons, smaller amounts at frequent intervals should be tried. Tendency to gas formation can be eliminated by thoroughly masticating the food and avoiding gas producing foods.

Many elderly persons suffer with mild diabetes which makes them ill.

Elderly persons have a tendency to be food faddists and they may try this food or that with the hope of getting a miraculous result. There is no miraculous food and reliance should be placed on a well-balanced general diet at all ages.

CHARLEMAGNE'S EMPIRE STRETCHED FROM NORTH SEA TO ADRIATIC

Winston Churchill said last month that there should be a union of nations in Europe which would include France and Germany.

The proposal of the former British prime minister was made in words which might mean that several nations should combine in one. Yet observers declared that Mr. Churchill really was aiming at a union of France and Germany. They stated that such a union would be like the old empire of Charlemagne.

Charlemagne did have both Germany and France in his empire. He also had two-thirds of Italy and all the land now in Switzerland, Belgium and Holland. His empire stretched from the North Sea to the eastern side of the Adriatic.

The name Charlemagne is French, and its meaning is "Charles the Great." Most historians look on him as the greatest French monarch.

Some question has been raised as to whether Charlemagne should be classed as a German or a Frenchman. He had his headquarters in France, but he belonged to a branch of the Germanic, or Teutonic, race which had invaded and conquered Gaul. These tribesmen were known as Franks, and the name of Gaul was changed to "France," meaning "Land of the Franks." To this day the French have a standard piece of money called the "franc."

It may be that Charlemagne was "German-speaking," but the French have a right to claim him since his capital was in France, and his power spread out from France.

A recent magazine article spoke of Charlemagne's empire, and the statement was made that "the three sons of Charlemagne" broke up the empire. Charlemagne did have three sons, but two of them died before their father. The empire was split into parts by three grandsons (not sons) of the great ruler. Charlemagne passed his power to his son, Louis the Pious, and three sons of Louis divided the empire when the Treaty of Verdun was made.

Fined $300 For Sale Of Liquor

Elvina R. Harrison, 644 Cormorant Street, was found guilty on a charge of keeping liquor for sale and was fined $300, or in default three months in jail, by Magistrate Henry C. Hall in city police court this morning.

W. H. M. Haldane, defence counsel, gave notice of appeal.

Suggest Pay Raise: Union Recognition For Civic Workers

City Hall outside employees who are not working at the present time under union agreements will be granted a 12 per cent increase in wages retroactive to May 1, a modified closed shop and union check-off if the recommendation made by the labor relations committee to Monday's City Council meeting is carried out.

Mayor Percy George reported the recommendation after the committee had considered requests from the Civic Employees' Protective Association, which now has an agreement on working conditions embodied in a by-law.

The committee recommended that any present employee who is now a member of the association, or who later becomes a member, shall remain a member in good standing as a condition of employment. There will be no compulsion on any employee to take out membership in the association, Mayor George said.

In agreeing to check off of union dues, the committee recommended that the city reserve the right in case of any dispute to have the matter referred to the labor relations committee.

Face Assault Charge

George Paton and Charles Brown were remanded until next Tuesday when they appeared in city police court this morning before Magistrate Henry C. Hall, charged with assaulting Herbert McLennan of Cowichan Bay.

Paton and Brown, whom Magistrate Hall sent to the assizes on a charge of breaking and entering and were released from custody after posting bail, were not represented by counsel. Bail in the new case was set at $1,000 each in one or two sureties.

Mayhew Addresses Old-Age Pensioners

R. W. Mayhew, Victoria M.P., explained the Dominion government's suggestions for changing the old-age pension scheme to 200 members of No. 5 Branch of the old-age pensioners Thursday night.

Mr. Mayhew, who said he was sympathetic to the cause of the pensioners and would do everything within his power to aid them, said the Dominion government had indicated to the Dominion-Provincial Conference a plan to abolish the means test for pensioners over 70 and to assist the provinces in providing a pension for persons 65 to 69 years of age.

Whether or not any changes in the pension system would be undertaken by the government at the next session of Parliament Mr. Mayhew was unable to indicate.

Mrs. Dorothy Spurr, honorary secretary of the branch, outlined the work of the pension board, and Mrs. A. Spisto of the auxiliary to the association, also spoke.

Entertainment was provided by Stan James, Arthur Jackson, Bill Anderson and Jim McGrath. Another meeting will be held in November.

Crescent Shows has written the City Council to inquire about May 24 celebrations in 1947.

7 Women Study For Degrees In Law School At U.B.C.

The legal profession, mainly populated by men, is being invaded by women.

Statistics on the 1946-47 enrollment released by the University of British Columbia showed today the university's new law school is the fastest growing department in the university and that it includes seven women.

Enrollment in the law school last term totaled 71. This year the enrollment has more than trebled, 239 students being enrolled.

A majority of them are war veterans—188 to be exact. A majority of the veterans in the law school are men—but there are also three women war veterans enrolled this term—all in first year law.

Among the non-veterans one woman is in first year, two are in second year and one is in third year.

Enrollment of women in applied science is bolstered by the fact that the entire student body working toward applied science degrees in nursing is female.

3 WOMEN ENGINEERS

In the other applied science departments which are usually thought of as purely masculine are three women—all taking engineering. One of these brave young women is in second year while the other two are in third year.

University of B.C. has no women in architecture and forest engineering. No women student-veterans have enrolled in applied science courses outside of nursing.

Dr. R. M. Petrie May Receive Promotion

Dr. R. M. Petrie, member of the staff of the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory here since 1935, likely will be appointed assistant director of the Observatory shortly, Dr. J. A. Pearce, director, said today.

Dr. C. S. Beals, assistant director of the Observatory since 1940, will go to the Ottawa Observatory as acting Dominion astronomer, as reported in the Times Wednesday.

It was confirmed in Ottawa by J. M. Wardle, director of the surveys and engineering branch, Department of Mines, that Dr. and Mrs. Beals would shortly leave for the east. He said R. M. Stewart, director of the Ottawa Observatory, would retire Feb. 15, and that no move will be made to fill the position until after that time.

Dr. Pearce expressed great regret at losing Dr. Beals after an association of 19 years. He indicated Dr. K. O. Wright and Dr. Andrew McKeller, as well as Dr. Petrie, are in line for promotions.

Mrs. M. Tripp Passes

Mrs. Mary Tripp, aged 72 years, wife of David Alfred Tripp, died Thursday at her home, 338 Niagara Street. She was a daughter of the late Capt. George W. Robertson who was master of the Ss. Islander on which boat the late Mrs. Tripp arrived in Victoria in 1888. She was a Past Matron of Victoria Chapter, No. 17, O.E.S., also a member of Nazareth Shrine, No. 1, White Shrine of Jerusalem.

Funeral services will be held in McCall Brothers Floral Funeral Chapel Monday afternoon at 3.

Two potatoes, weighing five pounds three ounces and three pounds three ounces were brought to the Times office today by W. Duval, 278 Island Highway, View Royal. The potatoes are of the Sequoia variety and were grown without watering. One was taken from a root bearing 19 others, all of them fair size. Reports from other island areas have proved this a very successful year for potato growers.

Jury Returns Verdict Of Accidental Death

Accidental death was the verdict returned by a coroner's jury in the death of Arthur Kirby 1971 St. Anne Street, who died in hospital following a fall from a ladder in the home of Mrs. Doreen Burgess of 2325 Wark Street on Tuesday, Oct. 22.

Mr. Kirby, 72 years of age, who was repairing the kitchen at the time of the accident, slipped and fell from a ladder, striking his head on the floor. He was rushed to hospital but died a few hours later. Cause of death was the direct result of the fall, according to medical testimony.

3 Projectionists Set For Theatre

A board of arbitration, hearing a dispute between the management of the Royal Theatre here and the International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employees and Motion Picture Operators of Canada and the United States (A.F.L.) has ruled that only three projectionists are necessary in the Royal's projection room.

Announcement of the decision was made today by George Wilkinson, secretary of the Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council, who served as arbitrator for the union. J. Howard Harman was chairman, while F. H. Gow represented the company.

Mr. Wilkinson said the union had attempted to have four men put in the projection booth of the theatre, to give work for a war veteran. The other three projectionists had agreed to take pay cuts and to reduce their hours of work so that the cost of employing the extra projectionist would not be increased for the company.

Decision of the board was unanimous.

Assault Case Before Court

Damages amounting to $900, plus $100 for medical treatment were claimed in County Court today by Mrs. Laverna Woodley Page, 1049 Pandora Avenue, for injuries suffered as the result of an alleged assault in a restaurant.

Mrs. Page, a young married woman, testified that James M. Glowatsky, mechanic, 1808 Crescent Road, grappled with her and shook her violently while she was sitting in a restaurant waiting for her husband, a seaman in the R.C.N.

She testified that she slapped him and the defendant responded by hitting her on the face. The case is proceeding before Judge H. H. Shandley. Counsel for the plaintiff is P. J. Sinnott, W. Morsby is defence counsel.

Sale Of Willows To Speed Completion Of Memorial Arena

Hope that construction of the Memorial Arena would be speeded now that the additional $125,000 had been made available from sale of the Willows was expressed today by Ald. R. A. C. Dewar, chairman of the arena committee.

In an extremely light poll, Thursday, 1,259 ratepayers cast votes in favor of the sale of Willows Fairgrounds to S. W. Randall of the Colwood Park Racing Association, for $125,000. There were 503 voted against it, giving a margin of 203 over the required three-fifths majority of those voting, to pass the by-law, M. F. Hunter, returning officer reported.

There were 23 spoiled ballots. Ald. Dewar said that he was happy that the by-law had passed and was now prepared to go ahead as speedily as possible to let tenders for the remainder of the project.

Ald. Edward Williams, chairman of the finance committee, and Mayor Percy George also expressed satisfaction at passage of the by-law.

Coach Lines Take Out Specifications

Second application for copies of the unified transportation system specifications has come in to M. F. Hunter, city clerk, from the Vancouver Island Coach Lines.

The first company to indicate interest in tendering was the B.C. Electric Railway Co., which got its copies a few days ago.

Ald. H. M. Diggon, chairman of the Greater Victoria Transportation Committee, has dropped several hints that other firms may be interested in tendering but he will not say where the inquiries came from.

Bids are to be in the hands of the transportation committee by Nov. 22.

B.C. Asks Bids Again

The provincial public works department today recalled tenders for construction of four doctors' residences, nurses' home, library building, farm boarding-house addition and two farm cottages at the provincial tuberculosis sanitarium at Tranquille.

Tenders for several of the buildings had been called previously and rejected because the bids were considerably higher than works department estimates of the cost.

Tenders will close at noon Nov. 25, at which time they will be opened in the minister of public works office.

Crown Closes Case Against Benning

OTTAWA (CP)—The Crown closed its case against 33-year-old James Scotland Benning in the Ontario Supreme Court today with the evidence of two former colleagues of his with the wartime Munitions and Supply Department. It is alleged he gave confidential information to the Russians while with the department.

J. C. Dobie, now with the Reconstruction Department, identified a number of departmental reports, letters, telegrams and pieces of information to Benning in his work and said they corresponded to items noted on a Russian Embassy mailing list and credited to the agent Foster.

In some, he said, there were discrepancies as to dates and size. Miss Enid Martin identified a document in the handwriting of H. S. Gerson, recently sentenced to five years for conspiracy. Gerson married the sister of Benning's wife and worked with him in the department.

The document, taken from the embassy files, is a summary of an official report on a test in which the super-explosive RDX was used.

Report 10 Killed 33 Hurt In Fresh Calcutta Rioting

CALCUTTA (CP)—Ten persons were reported killed and 33 injured in this provincial capital up to noon in renewed Hindu-Muslim clashes, as Bengal officials moved to rush food to the strife-torn Noakhali and Tipperah districts of the province to prevent mass starvation.

In New Delhi, meanwhile, a high source within the Hindu-led All-India Congress Party said the Congress and the Muslim League had reached a compromise on the distribution of portfolios in the Interim Coalition Government, an issue which had threatened to bring about the resignation of all Congress Party ministers. The informant said an official announcement of the allotment of cabinet posts would be made shortly by the Viceroy.

Most of the new deaths in Calcutta's disorders, continuing to spread on this second day of Hindu observance of Diwali Puja (a religious light festival) were reported to have been caused by stabbing affrays. Streetcar and bus service into the affected areas was halted. On three occasions police clashed with mobs during the morning.

Reuters' news agency said shots were fired by police. Provincial officials prepared to use planes, boats and trains to rush food to Noakhali and Tipperah.

Sir Frederick Burrows, Governor of Bengal, flew Thursday from his residence in Darjeeling to attend a meeting of the Bengal cabinet at which plans were considered for the relief of thousands of persons driven from their homes by bitter communal disorders.

She told how she had fired the gun and seen O'Connell fall. Four bullet holes, one in the forehead and three in the back, were found on the corpse, Mr. Kay said.

Victoria Branch of the Kipling Society will meet next Tuesday night at 8, at 301 Union Building.

Work is being pushed on the plans and it is hoped to be able to submit a money-by-law to the taxpayers of the four municipalities by March or early April.

School District's Name Changed By Council

An order of the Council of Public Instruction has changed the formal name of School District No. 65 (Duncan), to School District No. 65 (Cowichan).

Outstanding Comedy At Dominion Theatre

One of the outstanding comedies of this year "The Cockeyed Miracle" starring Frank Morgan, Keenan Wynn and Audrey Totter, comes today to the Dominion Theatre. From stars such as these one can expect nothing but comedy at its best. The screen play is by Karen DeWolf, based on a play by George Seaton. The second feature is "Hopalong Cassidy Returns," a western thriller.

'Mikado' Production Coming In November

Gilbert and Sullivan's Nipponese satire, "The Mikado," continues to delight audiences, and comes to Victoria as the first of a series of three Gilbert and Sullivan operas to be presented by the Savoy Light Opera Company on tour.

"The Mikado" will be heard on the afternoon and evening of Nov. 11 and will be followed by "H.M.S. Pinafore" on Tuesday evening and "Patience" on Wednesday afternoon and "Pirates of Penzance" Wednesday evening with the same excellent "Savoyard" cast.

Marsden Argall, baritone of the company, whose background includes operatic roles in the east and in Europe, portrays "The Mikado."

Virginia Blair, petite prima donna, who recently returned from a tour as the leading soprano with the San Carlo Opera, plays "Yum-Yum." YORK THEATRE

Betty Warren, playing her first straight part in "They Met in the Dark," now being shown at the York Theatre, spends all her spare time building boats. She was part owner in a boat that did noble work at Dunkirk before it was lost, so she and her partner set about building one to replace it. Now Betty's firm is turning out six lifeboats and whalers a month and employs more than 45 people.

RIO THEATRE

Modernized versions, with English lyrics, of "Shadows" by Teichowsky, and the tuncful "Barber of Seville" are sung by Susanna Foster in Universal's "That Night With You" currently at the Rio Theatre, Miss Foster is co-starred with Franchot Tone, Louise Allbritton and David Bruce.

ATLAS THEATRE

Starting his role as the traffic cop in "The Postman Always Rings Twice," Jeff York drove his car to the M-G-M studios at 7.30 a.m., and then was transported by studio car to a distant location site where he spent the day handing out traffic tickets for scenes in the Lana Turner-John Garfield drama, now on the Atlas screen. When he returned to his car at 6.30, he found a ticket waiting for him, for over-time parking.

Postwar Separation

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Tyrone Power and Annabella, whose seven-year marriage has often been described as one of Hollywood's happiest, have decided to separate, and close friends say the reason probably was their wartime separation. The announcement came from Power's studio, confirming rumors heard with increasing frequency in recent months.

Storm Causes Death

SEATTLE (AP)—Winds up to 58 miles an hour swept Seattle for more than four hours Thursday.

John J. Stader, city light department lineman, was electrocuted when the gale whipped a utility pole against a 4,400-volt electric line.

The wind, coupled with the backwash of an American Airlines DC-4 tore a light plane loose from its moorings and stood it on its nose at Boeing Field.

OAK BAY AND PLAZA THEATRES

In response to a call for two husky pack animals to be used by Evelyn Keyes and Willard Parker in a scene from Columbia Pictures' technicolor super-western, "Renegades," which is now at the Oak Bay and Plaza Theatres, Bob Burns sent along a pair of prize-winning mules, which he brought at a livestock show in Kansas City.

Party Committees Already At Work On Redistribution

OTTAWA (CP)—Key men in the political parties are hard at work preparing for the redistribution of the federal constituencies of Canada which will be a major job in the parliamentary session opening next January.

The Liberals have a strong committee of members of Parliament from each province at work, it is understood, and the Progressive Conservatives have a somewhat similar set-up. But who these members are and what progress they are making is regarded as high-level political strategy and a top secret.

The C.C.F. also is at work, it is said, and the three parties are massing data with which to enter the redistribution committee when it is set up shortly after parliament opens. The reason such great emphasis is placed on the rearrangement of constituency boundaries is the possibility of political advantage by putting a block of voters into one constituency or another.

So anxious is the government to get an early start on the work of the redistribution committee that the draft bill already has been prepared. Significant in the bill is a provision committing the government to adding the district of Mackenzie to the Yukon. This would take in Yellowknife, Edmonton, Aklavik and Norman. It had been suggested the entire Northwest Territories be added, but the parties agreed taking in Keewatin and Franklin was unnecessary because so few voters live in those regions.

R.C.M.P. Seeking 1,000 Recruits

OTTAWA (CP)—Men wanted: 1,000 physically fit and mentally alert young Canadians who would prefer wearing the scarlet tunic of Canada's "Mounties" to admiring it.

The R.C.M.P. has announced the launching of a campaign for recruits and the lowering of the acceptance age from 21 to 18 years.

Deputy Commissioner F. J. Mead said that with the present screening methods in the selection of recruits, he felt the chances were "remote of men getting into the force who would not make good peace officers."

He said the type of recruit the R.C.M.P. now was getting was "certainly the same calibre as the old-timers who built the reputation of the force for loyalty, integrity and devotion to service."

Application may be made in person or by mail at the headquarters in Ottawa or at any R.C.M.P. detachment in Canada.

Eligible For 2 Years For Jobless Insurance

OTTAWA (CP)—Persons earning more than $60 a week who are no longer included in the Unemployment Insurance plan will still be eligible to receive benefits for a limited time, insurance officials report.

Under a recent amendment, persons earning more than $60 a week were excluded from the plan, which previously applied to all workers on a daily or weekly pay basis. Those in this category will, however, still be eligible to receive benefits should they become unemployed during the next two years, providing they have made contributions for 180 days.

There also is a possibility the benefit period may be extended to four years.

Bulolo Gold Claims $3,467,822 Damages

VANCOUVER (CP)—A war damage claim of $3,467,822 has been lodged with the Australian government by the Bulolo Gold Dredging Company Ltd., it was disclosed Thursday in the annual report of the British Columbia corporation.

The damage claim covers totally or partially destroyed properties of the company in New Guinea, one of the battle zones in the war against Japan. The report said the claim is being checked by the Australian War Damage Commission and that against the final settlement, the commission is advancing funds to meet the company's rehabilitation costs.

SEX EDUCATION
"We Are Sixteen" by F. J. Corina (Coach House Publishers)

THIS book purports to be a frank discussion of sex problems designed for the adolescent who has been faced with the all-too-prevalent "hush hush" attitude on the subject.

It is told in narrative style, with Jack and Jill, two sixteen-year-olds presenting their search for knowledge to the family doctor, Dr. Wiseman.

While the book is somewhat over-pedantic for the average adolescent for whom it is designed, skirting many of the questions which arise most frequently in the minds of youngsters on the threshold of physical maturity, it does make a strong plea for a new and franker outlook on the sex question.

"Instead of regarding it as something immoral, or unsavory, or something to be hidden—which it is not," Dr. Wiseman says in one place, "We should regard it in the light of an impulse which seeks to set free unreleased bodily energy and mental energy. Sexual impulses, after all, are a desire to express energy, and if we can find a way of expressing that energy without breaking the laws of convention, so much the better."

In another instance he declares, "I must assert that there is no more sin about sex than there is about eating. It is in the use or misuse of these things that wrongfulness can, and does arise."

The book, printed in England, is designed as a "birthday gift edition" for young people, but it is doubtful if the average Canadian adolescent would stick it out to the end in reading it.
